

AP: Advanced Placement Program Exams

College Board's Advanced Placement Program is recognized by universities around the world as a standard of academic excellence. Since 1955, the AP Program has enabled millions of students to take U.S. university undergraduate-level courses and earn undergraduate degree credit, advanced placement, or both while still in high school/secondary school.

Nearly all colleges and universities in the United States-as well as more than 500 universities in 75 countries such as the U.K., Canada, and Australia- consider AP participation favorably for admission and have policies around AP credit and placement.

AP Exams are administered once every year during the first two-three weeks of May. Registration in the Fall prior to the testing year is strongly recommended to ensure students have time to prepare.
